THROUGH THE EYES OF A CHILD

Sometimes we don't realize all the problems that children face: The pressure to fit in. Saying no to drugs, gangs, and sex. Coping with divorce or abuse. Trouble in school. To a young mind, issues like these can be overwhelming. Appropriate support and treatment is essential in helping relieve distress and promoting healthy coping skills.

RECOGNIZING THE SIGNS

Early intervention for children and adolescents who are experiencing emotional or behavior problems can help increase success in school, at home, and in life. It's important for caring adults to know when a child needs professional help. Warning signs include the following:

- Persistent sadness and crying, or hopelessness
- Anger that persists or occurs most of the time; overreactions common
- Refusing to attend or declining school performance
- Extreme fearfulness or excessive worrying
- Loss in interest in previously enjoyed activities
- Changes in sleeping or eating habits
- Using alcohol or drugs; excessive sexual thoughts or actions
- Repetitive habits and rituals
- Having racing thoughts, seeing things or hearing voices that cannot be explained
- Constant concern about physical problems or appearance
- Talk of suicide or worry about hurting others or doing something bad

FINDING THE RIGHT SERVICE PROVIDER IS CRITICAL

Since 1974, Edgewater Behavioral Health Services (Edgewater) has been providing help and hope in the lives of those who need it most. Guided by professional experience, a focus on quality, evidence-based services, and a deep commitment to the community, Edgewater has established itself as a leader in providing quality interventions that can lead to a promising future.

Edgewater's Family & Youth Services department is staffed by an experienced team of highly qualified licensed professionals including psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers, therapists, and case managers. Together, they provide out-patient and/or home-based psychotherapy, psychiatric consultations, medication evaluations, and other treatment options and services to help children, adolescents, and their families cope with issues affecting their lives.

AVAILABLE SERVICES

• Outpatient Services

The Outpatient Program is located at the main facility at 1100 West Sixth Avenue, Gary, Indiana, 46402. The Outpatient Program is designed to serve children and adolescents, age 6-18 as well as parents and family members who participate in the ongoing psychotherapy process. Participation in our programs typically includes weekly outpatient office visits for either individual, family and/or group evidence-based psychotherapy. The program evaluates each child and adolescent from a developmental perspective and emphasizes integration of the family system into the intervention process.

• Community-Based Services

These programs are designed to meet the needs of families who have children with behavioral health problems. Most services are provided in a family's home at their convenience. The services includes in home counseling to assist with behavioral health needs, behavior modification, medication adherence, and any other type of service that will train and assist the child and family to address the needs of their children in a community setting.

• Day Treatment Services

The Day Treatment Program provides a structured educational environment alongside mental health services, Monday-Friday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Students between the ages of 8-18 receive educational instructions, therapeutic activities, as well as individual therapy and case management. Parents receive individual therapy, family counseling, and parent education. The program is designed to serve children diagnosed with serious emotional disorders, behavioral problems, and mental health needs in a more structured setting.

• Truancy Termination Program

This program targets middle school students in grades 6-8 and utilizes a series of progressively intensive steps to hold children and parents/guardians accountable for truancy. The program is a school-judicial-behavioral health collaboration. The goals of the program are to provide comprehensive integrated services to truant students and their families , and to reduce delinquent behavior and the risk factors leading to such behavior. Services provided include; family support, parent education, crisis intervention, monitoring of school attendance and behavior, substance abuse, individual therapy, and case management.

DAY TREATMENT PROGRAM FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES OF LAKE COUNTY

Edgewater Day Treatment Program provides a structured educational environment alongside of mental health services, Monday-Friday from 8 am - 3 pm, year-round.

Students receive 3 hours of educational instruction and 3 hours of therapeutic activities, as well as individual therapy and case management. Parents receive individual therapy, family counseling, and parent education.

The day treatment program is designed to serve children diagnosed with serious emotional disorders, behavioral problems, and mental health needs in a more structured setting. Children and youth with complex needs will be able to remain with their families in their communities and continue learning while receiving intensive mental health treatment.

Our staff includes a child psychiatrist, therapists, case manager, nurse, certified teacher, teacher aide, and an educational technician who work together to ensure that every child receives the care and attention he or she deserves.

GOALS

- To provide a safe, caring and orderly learning environment for every student.
- Increase student achievement as measured by state and local accountability requirements.
- Increase parental involvement and input.
- Reduce dropout, suspension, and expulsion rates.
- Improve student-peer relations; self-regulation in a school like setting
- Provide a learning environment addressing student's unique emotional and behavior needs.
- Teach students how to take responsibility for their actions and treat others with respect.

All students are eligible from ALL schools systems in Lake County, Indiana.
A list of exclusionary criteria beyond the scope of the program is available.

ADMISSION CRITERIA, PLACEMENT, AND TRANSITION

The Day Treatment program specializes in working with individuals between the ages of 8-18 who require a more intensive therapeutic environment than outpatient treatment provides. We specialize in helping:

- Those at risk for truancy, academic failure, and/or suspended, expelled, or have dropped out.
- Those with emotional and/or behavioral problems and/or at risk of participation in juvenile justice.
- Those who are returning from psychiatric hospitalization and/or a juvenile justice facility.
- Those whose learning styles are better served in an alternative setting.
- Those who meet DSM-V criteria with a CANS level of need of 4 or 5.

A case conference occurs with referral source and Edgewater's therapeutic team to discuss admission to the program. The staff work with all relevant parties to develop a transition plan for returning to the home school.

TRUANCY TERMINATION PROGRAM

Edgewater Behavioral Health Services is pleased to announce a Truancy Termination Program. This program is a school-judicial-mental health collaboration.

WHY DOES MY CHILD NEED TO GO TO SCHOOL?
To get the best start in life,
a child needs a good education.

The purpose of the Truancy Termination Program is to provide school dropout prevention education, job readiness skills services, parent education, and family support services to youth and their families in order to reduce reduction of delinquent youth truants.

SERVICES PROVIDED

- Family Support
- Parent education
- Crisis Intervention
- Monitoring of school attendance, behavior
- Transportation
- Individual therapy, case management
- Substance Abuse

We believe kids need a great education and they can't get it if they're not in school.

- Truancy is a problem in Northwest Indiana
- Truancy is expensive and we all end up paying for it sooner or later
- There is a direct link between truancy and juvenile delinquency
- Truants are at a greater risk for getting involved with alcohol, drugs, gangs, and violence
- Parents need to understand why it's important for their kids to get to school and stay there

Education should be the top priority of truants
Truancy is a problem that affects the whole community, and many agencies are responsible for helping to reduce it.

BOTH THE YOUTH AND FAMILY WILL BE REQUIRED TO ATTEND (SIX) WEEKLY SKILLS-BASED CLASSES.

TRAINING FOR PARENTS INCLUDE:

- Role as parent and self-esteem
- Understanding child growth and development/sibling rivalries
- Communication and listening skills/relationships
- How to use effective discipline/problem solving
- Anger management/conflict resolution
- Teaching morals, values and respect
- Financial Management

YOUTH MODULES

- Personal Hygiene
- Truancy
- College Awareness
- Conflict Resolution
- Relationships (peer to peer and peer to parent)
- Substance Abuse
- Decision Making, Time Management, and Goal Setting
